

UNCLE JASE'S BEAR RECORD

MAN FROM THE KNOB COUNTRY
TRY LEARNS THE FACTS.

His demand to know the truth about the intelligent creature that circumscribed the Veteran list by a record of some extraordinary happenings.

LAKAWAXIN, March 18.—"I says to Uncle Jase," said the man from the Knob country, "I says to him: 'How about the one, Jason,' I says, 'that sarumvented you for three weeks,' I says, 'an' then of Rastus come along with his gun an' shot it right out from under your nose?' I says, 'Tell us about that,' I says, 'smilin' at him as it morn' he was lookin' at me as if he was wantin' to look at it.'

"For it got to be consider'ble m'not' an' the young feller Uncle Jase had been fillin' up the young feller from New York with the idea that when it come to sarumventin' bear there wa'n't nobody that ever took the trail that could hold a candle to his own a-doin' of it. It hadn't only got to be consider'ble m'not'ous but it was fixin' up Uncle Jase's ever-a-stin' future so that it was goin' to be somethin' awful for him to gaze into. An' I thought the New York feller'd nebbe get over the idea that Jase was the only one amongst us that was with the 'ble of his takin' by the arm an' walkin' over to Hiram's. So I says to him:

"How about the one, Jason,' I says, 'that sarumvented you for three weeks,' I says, 'an' then of Rastus come along with his gun an' shot it right out from under your nose?' I says, 'Tell us about that,' I says, 'smilin' at him as it morn' he was lookin' at me as if he was wantin' to look at it.'

"Cause that was a bear that Jase had been tryin' to sarumvent, an' the story had come how young Gabe had seen him haul up an' shoot at it one day, an' he had the buck fever so bad that, though the bear was standin' still, Jase didn't come no higher to it than cuttin' a laurel bush twenty foot ahead of the bear, an' the bear trotted off.

"Simeon was trappin' for the same bear, an' when he went to his trap one mornin' an' found that the cordwood he had stacked up around the trap for a blind had been lugged away so the bear could see the trap an' of course wouldn't go in it he didn't make no bones of tellin' Jase that if he ever lugged a blind away from a trap of his'n agin in to see the bear out he'd make him wish nine times he was havin' no luck with him.

"Then Jase, morn' he was no luck as yet an' sarumventin' the bear, he started in to trap for it himself, an' he took his trap and a big hunk of fresh beef for bait an' went to the woods to set it. Eli's Sam come from his choppin' that day so high to be tickled all to death that it was quite a spell 'fore he could tell how he had seen Jase cuttin' it through the woods tight as he could bridle, an' skimpin' up the first tree he could get into, with the bear only a few jumps behind him. Then the bear went back, an' Eli's Sam slippin' up behind it seen it settin' on the ground with the beef.

"When that got around of Rastus got disgusted, an' takin' his gun one day he said he'd go out an' knock that bear out of his own self an' have it done with. But that was a get Jase an' him to see by his time, for Rastus come in to Jase's cabin from one tree to another, tryin' his best to get away from there, for the bear was twistin' round most of the trees, makin' to ride Jase as fast as he could, an' Rastus said he guessed the bear was a-gittin' there, for he hadn't happened along an' sent a call in it.

"Tell us about that, an' Uncle Jase, I says, an' then of Rastus come along with his gun an' shot it right out from under your nose?' I says, 'Tell us about that,' I says, 'smilin' at him as it morn' he was lookin' at me as if he was wantin' to look at it.'

"Tell us about that, an' Uncle Jase, I says, an' then of Rastus come along with his gun an' shot it right out from under your nose?' I says, 'Tell us about that,' I says, 'smilin' at him as it morn' he was lookin' at me as if he was wantin' to look at it.'

SCHOOLBOYS BREAK RECORDS

MURPHY OF MORRIS HIGH RUNS
60 YARDS IN 7 SECONDS.

D. Klaber adds four inches to Sub-Junior High Jump Figure—Ruggiero, Cross-Country Crack, Falls in Mile Run at the Morris Games.

Two school records were broken at the start of the Morris High School games at the Seventy-first Regiment Armory last night. E. Murphy, one of the scratch men in the sixty yard run, junior, brought down the mark which J. P. Braisted made in 1908. Murphy made his distance in 7 seconds. D. Klaber added four inches to the sub-junior high jump record, which J. Murray has held since 1903. Klaber made the bar at 4 feet 9 inches.

J. Daly from the 35 yard position gave every indication of continuing the three run until the last round, when he weakened and quickly gave up a lead of twenty yards. M. Kennedy, 25 yards, won the race in 2 minutes 11 1/4 seconds.

P. Ruggiero, a P. A. I. cross-country champion, was severely handicapped in the mile run, but probably would have won had he not taken a spill in the fifth lap. Ruggiero jogged away at the tail end until the fifth lap. It was here that he fell in attempting to pass a man on the turn. Barr dropped out of sight at the half mile, and Timmons was in the lead for two laps, with H. James second. E. Diamond, who had the longest handle, two yards, took up the pace-making in the ninth lap and won by five yards.

Ruggiero sprinted hard for 200 yards, but was unable to catch Diamond. The time was 5 minutes.

The second round on a number of events. S. Majewski won the 12 pound shotput and the sixty yard low hurdle race and was a member of the team which won the three-legged race. Majewski was a member of the football team. J. Bryan was first in the 220 yard middle distance race, and scratch, in 27 3/4 seconds, and was third in the fifty yard run.

PAKKE KNOCKS OUT LEWIS.

Middleweights Fight Fast and Finish in Third Round.

PAKKE, March 19.—A match between Willie Lewis and Billy Papke, middleweights, was fought at the Cirque de Paris to-night and resulted in an easy win for Papke in the middle of the third round. Lewis was giving away ten pounds and when the two faced in the ring Papke's better physique was easily apparent, but both looked splendidly fit. The fight commenced rather tamely, but soon both men were boxing furiously. In the middle of the first round Lewis went down for seven seconds and seemed glad when time was called. The second round was fought all through, science being thrown to the winds, and both men appeared savagely. This no doubt was a result of some bad feeling which it is understood exists between Lewis and Papke. In this round, however, Lewis was clearly superior on points, although Papke kept much the cooler of the two. The third round commenced in a furious fashion, but Papke's superior physique was easily apparent, and he was able to drop both hands received three blows in quick succession on the jaw and went out.

The referee, who was a Frenchman, called time at the end of the third round, and Lewis was declared the winner by a unanimous decision.
